

THE COLOR OF HEALTH

Examining Racism as a Public Health Crisis

Wednesday, Feb. 24 | Noon-1 p.m.

In recent months, Ohio Governor Mike DeWine, the Cuyahoga and Franklin County boards of health and numerous others have recognized racism as a public health crisis.

Join us for a panel discussion about public policy, health care access, race and racism in Ohio.

Yvonka Marie Hall, MPA
*Executive Director,
Northeast Ohio
Black Health Coalition*

J. Nwando Olayiwola, M.D., MPH, FAAFP
*Professor and Chair,
Department of Family and Community Medicine,
The Ohio State University*

Sherrie D. Williams, M.D., MHS
*Chair, 340B Health Board of Directors;
Associate Professor, Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine;
Medical Staff, The MetroHealth System*

MODERATED BY

Winston C. Thompson, Ph.D.

Associate Professor, College of Education and Human Ecology, The Ohio State University

Free and open to the public. Register at tri-c.edu/colorofhealth.

Attendees may submit questions to colorofhealth@tri-c.edu prior to or during the event.

EQUITY | ACTION | HEALING | UNITY

JACK, JOSEPH AND MORTON MANDEL
HUMANITIES CENTER

